

Sonoma County Behavioral Health Division Suicide Prevention Event: Screening of THE S WORD with Panelists and 988 Presentation

"THE S WORD"

As part of September is Suicide Prevention Month and Sonoma County Department of Health Services, Behavioral Health Division with Buckelew's North Bay Suicide Prevention Program are providing a free screening of the documentary, "THE S WORD" followed by panel discussion and a 988 informational presentation by Buckelew's North Bay Suicide Prevention. "THE S WORD" is a powerful feature documentary that puts a human face on suicide, a topic that has long been stigmatized and buried with the lives it has claimed. For more information go to: <https://theswordmovie.com/>

Goals of the film:

- Raise awareness about suicide prevention and resources, including alternatives that reach outside the box.
- Talk openly about suicide without judgement, shame, or discrimination.
- To get people to think about suicide in a completely different way – highlighting the complexity, pain and even humor of our survivors.
